Concrete Construction Safety – Quick Course

Course Description

The potential for employees to be hurt or killed is high if dangers and hazards of working with concrete are not identified and addressed. This quick course covers the types of hazards involved with working with concrete on construction sites and how to protect yourself.