Alcohol Consumption Safety Topic

Many establishments sell beer, wine, liqueurs and other forms of alcohol either for both on and/or off site consumption. Formed by the fermentations of yeast, sugars and starches, alcohol (ethyl alcohol) is controlled substance, that consumption must be monitored. Note that laws and regulations regarding the consumption of alcohol vary from state to state, employers and management should be aware and informed on all region specific laws as well as have proper certifications to…