Demolition Safety Planning Infographic

Interesting facts about demolition

Implosions account for less than 1% of all demolition projects, most are done by heavy machinery.

Demolition is a very green business by nature, most all of the demolition debris can be recycled and repurposed

Demolition is a very sophisticated business that involves a high level of skill and expertise

Demolition usually only accounts for a small percentage of total new building project costs

Demolition can be a dangerous business but hiring the right professionals can mitigate the safety risks

Average time of house demo:
1 WEEK

Average size
2,000 SQ.FT.

Average age of house
30 YEARS OLD

Reason people demolish houses:
House is outdated and too small

Source: https://visual.ly