Fire Safety for Roofers

Course Description

Roofing isn’t just about heights and weather; there’s also a real risk of fire—especially when you’re dealing with heat sources, flammable materials, and various on-site processes. This course will help you understand how to prevent fires, respond if one starts, and protect yourself and others.