Picture This: Zap Your Thirst Here

Some people get a charge from energy drinks, but here’s a way to get one from a plain old drinking fountain. Notice the position of the plug and outlet, and the sign warning of high-pressure water delivery. And the outlet does not appear to have ground fault circuit interruption (GFCI) protection. Still thirsty? (Naval Safety Center)