School Bus Safety For Parents and Teachers

This video is designed for parents and teachers of small children who ride school bus or other transportation vehicles. Small children listen and understand more from their parents and teachers than they would from a video. We've also learned from experience that bus drivers are very well trained and know the rules, but the greatest cause for concern is that small children do not have the knowledge or training in safety measures to take around transportation vehicles. Topics covered in this safety video include: Safe and danger zones, basic safety tips, on the bus safety, and crossing in front of the bus.
