Surviving today’s OHS challenges in a COVID world – three steps to meeting your future OHS needs today! – Sponsored by Avetta

During these times of uncertainty and new ways of working – are you ready for the Occupational Health & Safety (OHS) challenges and rapid changes? What is the same and what has really changed in the world of safety? What do the real safety numbers tell us about OHS today? We have missed Occupational Health and Safety opportunities during COVID, that have been overshadowed by Public Health. OHS is less visible in the world of work during COVID!

This informal session is your opportunity to discuss safety and how it impacts you and your company. How working together will get the results that matter to business and each of us. Come and let’s discuss these important topics during this Avetta sponsored learning opportunity.
