Workplace Inspections for Supervisors – Canada

Course Description

Conducting regular workplace inspections is a critical component of an OHS program. The objective: Identify and eliminate hazards before they cause injury—and before government inspectors find them for you. This course explains your OHS inspection duties and how to carry them out effectively.